Rights & Responsibilities

As a foster you will be expected to provide quality care to the animal(s) being placed with you. You have the right and responsibility to seek emergency medical care at a pre-approved veterinary clinic, should it be necessary; Circle L Rescue is to be informed IMMEDIATELY if an emergency situation arises. Below is a list of responsibilities that you, as a foster, are agreeing to by signing and submitting this application.

I will:

Provide weekly photos/videos of the animal's progress for CLR staff to share on social media.

Bring the animal to a minimum of one approved adoption event each month.

Work on house breaking and basic commands (sit, down, etc...).

Provide adequate socialization with other animals (various species as are available to the foster).

I will NOT:

Arrange for transport or transfer of the animal to another facility, person or persons without the direct approval of Circle L Rescue (any such action may be subject to legal action, as this is considered theft of an animal).

Arrange for any NON-EMERGENCY medical care of the animal (any medical care provided without the direct, prearranged approval of Circle L Rescue will be done at the expense of the foster).

Dictate procedure or process of interaction between the animal and potential adopters and their family members (this includes introductions to any animals currently in the home).

Any violation of these rights and responsibilities may result in the removal of the animal from the care of the foster and/or the removal of the foster from our list of caregivers.

DISCLOSURE & CONTRACT

If applying via email, please include a minimum of (2) two pictures of where the animal will be kept.

Circle L Rescue makes no guarantees or warranties regarding the demeanor, actions or health of the animal once adopted. Circle L Rescue is not liable for any damages, injuries, illness or death. Please note we cannot guarantee that the animal's behavior will remain the same after leaving the Rescue. We can only state what we have personally observed during the rehabilitation process, and their stay at Circle L Rescue.

All applicants may be subjected to a home visit, prior to foster approval.

Foster applicant stipulates they:

- Will provide all necessary food & supplements
- Will need Circle L Rescue to provide food & supplements
- Will provide all necessary transport for the animal
- Will need Circle L Rescue to provide all necessary transport for the animal

By fostering an animal for Circle L Rescue, you may have the ability for preferential treatment, if the animal becomes available for adoption. The foster relationship with Circle L Rescue, relies heavily on effective communication. It is essential any behavioral notations, injuries, illnesses or the like, be communicated to Circle L Rescue in a timely fashion.

Circle L Rescue cannot provide any guarantee as to the possible outcome of legal investigations, lawsuits, or other legal matters involving animals in our care. As a caretaker to an animal in the care and custody of Circle L Rescue, additional documentation or notations may be requested, as part of the animal's recovery and rehabilitation process.

Your signature below gives Circle L Rescue and/or associates permission to contact your personal references, veterinarian, and any other professional reference provided, and indicates you agree fully to all terms and conditions, as outlined above.
